

BROMLEY AUTISTIC TRUST Presents

TEACCH in the Home

Managing Autism at home

Friday 3rd November 2006 at Bromley Town Church, 2 Ethelbert Road, Central Bromley
From 10.00am – 3.00pm

Presented by Marie Doyle, SEN Advisor and ASD Development Worker

Division TEACCH's structured teaching approaches have been used worldwide and were developed from our understanding of the unique thinking and learning needs of people with Autistic Spectrum Disorders. TEACCH uses visual systems to organise routine and the environment and is used throughout the UK, particularly in classroom settings.

This course will look at how the principles can be practically used in the home or out in the community.

The course aims:-

- ❖ To increase our understanding of ASD thinking and learning
- ❖ To learn the key principles of using TEACCH
- ❖ To be able to adapt supportive strategies for managing daily home life

COURSE OUTLINE

- ❖ LIVING WITH ASD – WHAT ARE THE PROBLEMS AT HOME?
- ❖ TEACCH – What is it? Why use TEACCH?
- ❖ THE CULTURE OF AUTISM
- ❖ ORGANISING SPACE – How can we organise the indoor and outdoor space at home
- ❖ ORGANISING TIME – What's happening? When? What's next?
- ❖ ORGANISING ACTIVITY – What to do? How much? When is it finished?
- ❖ THE BIG PICTURE – We can get on with our lives?

Each participant will be provided with a work book to record ideas and keep a record of learning.
